

CALLS ILLITERACY
GREATEST TRAGEDY
OF THIS COUNTRYAverage Mental Level Only
That Of Child Of 14,
Says Dr. Loveland.FOREIGNERS GET
LITTLE EDUCATIONSpeaker Blames Condition
On Type Of Foreigner
Coming To U. S."The United States today has a larger per cent of illiteracy than any of the great nations inhabited by the white race.""The average mental level in this country is only that of a child of 14
years of age.""There are only about 13,000,000
people who are of the superior type of intelligence and 45,000,000 of people whose average mental level is 8 or 10 years."These statistics were presented by Dr. Frank Loveland, for nearly 20 years a minister, and who has toured
all the countries engaged in the World war, when he lectured on "The Tragedy of Ignorance," Saturday afternoon
at the Redpath chautauqua. "Can you see any tragedy in this?" he asked.Dr. Loveland explained that some of the causes for this condition were due to the type of foreigners coming to this country, who are not as high
a type as our forefathers, according to the lecturer."Why is it that where one dollar is spent for education, we are spending five for amusements, many of them vulgar? It is so much easier to get a big crowd for the street carnival than for the chautauqua." He pointed out that this condition was due to the fact that have so many morons, or adults of the 8 or 10-year average
level.Ignorance In Voting Dr. Loveland condemned some of the picture advertisements of the movies and against the result they were having on the boys and girls, stating that they aroused in them things that there may be trouble to quench as they grow older."People of the moron type are voting in this country. A democracy
must have intelligence in the hands of the voters or the ballot will become a bludgeon to blow out the government.""As go the great cities politically so goes the nation. Did you know that at the last presidential election in Ohio 68,000 people who could not read or write voted?""New York is not an American city but a foreign dumpheap. Any man or woman should be an American before
he or she is a Republican or Democrat.
If you want purity in politics
let the good people vote and take a hand in affairs.""These people are not only voting
but they are breeding and much more rapidly than the educated people. In the educated family there is an average of 1 1/2 children, while the average in the other type is five to seven.
Sixty-five to 75 per cent of our college graduates never marry and rear families. I hope the time will come when many of our fine educated women will think more of a baby than an almsdeed pup."Public Health Dr. Loveland devoted a part of his lecture to the discussion of public health and the startling revelation

AT COUNTY PICNICRevival Of Interest Shown
By Large Attendance At
Picnic Saturday.With a larger crowd in attendance
than last year, indications seem to be that interest is reviving in the annual Harvest Home picnic, for many years a popular event which attracted thousands of people, held Saturday at Eagleton glens.Satisfaction with the program of the day was expressed, the big feature of which were an address by Ex-Senator Atlee Pomerene of Cleveland
and airplane flights.Officers of the association are elected for a term of two years and these were chosen at this meeting: Vice President, G. J. Wilkinson, near Scrabble;
secretary, Miss Mary Linton, North Georgetown rd.; member of executive committee, P. O. Raley, Signal. Other officers are: President,
W. H. Boone, Winona; treasurer, F.
K. Z. near the Salem-Leontina rd.;
members of executive committee,
Homer Shelton, Lisbon rd. and Dallas
Hahn, Homeworth.Unless present plans are changed
the picnic will be held next year
at the same time and at the same place.
Clifford Greenisen won the prize for the slowest pony contest, which was called off, was divided among the four boy contestants who had brought their ponies.In the boat race Mr. Shearer of Cleveland and W. C. Bush were the winners. Howard Calvert, an aviator
from the Stow aviation field at Cleveland,
took many passengers up in his plane, using the upper field adjoining
the picnic grounds for a landing spot.
Interest in the plane interferred with the carrying out of the sports program which had been arranged for the afternoon.Shift Anthracite Coal Storm
Center To Harrisburg TodayPINCHOT MAKING
FINAL EFFORT TO BREAK DEADLOCKGovernor Of Pennsylvania
Meets Both Factions
At Noon Monday.SAYS STRIKE WILL
CRIPPLE MARKETAlso Stresses Unfavorable
Attitude Of Consumers
To a Strike.Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—The anthracite storm center today shifted to Harrisburg, capital of the state which furnishes the nation with its hard coal.Facing the political crisis of his career, Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, was prepared to make one final effort to bring the anthracite operators and miners together and avert a mine shut down on Sept. 1.At noon the two factions met with the governor in the state capitol and for the third time attempted to reach an agreement which will assure continuation of anthracite production.Realizing that upon the success or failure of his effort to mediate hangs
his opportunity to confront the people
next summer as a progressive Republican candidate for the presidential nomination, Gov. Pinchot had prepared a plea and a statement of policy
for presentation to the deadlock
leaders, calculated to impress upon them the futility and folly of a strike at this time.The statement presented at this meeting was designed to show the miners and operators that a waitout
on the first of next month would materially injure the anthracite market
because of an enforced public usage
of bituminous coal with the subsequent realization on the part of domestic users that the soft fuel at a cost of from four to five dollars less than hard coal is a war substitute.The governor also stressed the extremely unfavorable attitude of the consuming public to another strike
this winter, and a weakening of the union as a result.Gov. Pinchot has lost no time in marshalling his forces for the supreme test. Fully cognizant of the antipathy of both sides to further negotiations, he has overlooked no opportunity to bring public pressure to bear upon the contending forces.Regret was expressed at the governor's mansion that the illness of John L. Lewis, miner chieftain, would prevent his appearance at the Harrisburg conference, but it was said the substitution of Philip Murray, first vice president of the United Mine Workers of America was satisfactory.Two Boys Burned To Stake While Playing
Indian; Pals JailedBelmar N. J., Aug. 27.—Police today
held Dick Foreman, 17, and Caleb Hubbard, 18, following the death
of William Hubbard, 16, Caleb's brother, and Charles Tindler, burned at the stake while playing Indian yesterday.No formal charge has been made against the two youths. The boys chose a spot in a woods in West Belmar
to tie "the captives" to the stake.
They piled excelsior about the feet of the "Indians" who jested during the process, then applied the kerosene.
The ground was saturated with coal oil.
Soon the tree to which the boys had been tied was aflame.Frantic efforts to extricate the boys and extinguish the flames proved unavailing.Travelers Will Have Banquet In NovemberThe annual banquet of Salem council, United Commercial Travelers, will be held in November, according to a decision reached at the meeting Saturday night. This committee will have charge of arrangements: W. H. Voneman,
P. H. Mead, Frank Heckert, Homer Peters and A. R. Courtney.
These men will meet Tuesday evening
at the Voneman home to discuss plans for the event. On application was accepted.Little Loss Results
From Sunday BlazeComparatively little damage resulted when fire believed by firemen to have resulted from spontaneous combustion
in a local hospital with a broken bustion ignited in a closet on the first floor at the Doerner residence, in Arch st., at 9:50 a. m. Sunday.A collection of rags and paper and the partitions of the closet were charred by the fire. Members of the family believe the blaze resulted from electrical wiring.Boy Is Jarred Off

Connection With Riot
At Carnegie, Pa.Pittsburg, Aug. 27.—As an aftermath
to the rioting between civilians
and the Ku Klux Klan when the latter attempted to parade through Carnegie, Pa., late Saturday night
and early Sunday morning, Patrick McDermott, 5, an undertaker, is being held here in jail today in connection with the death of Thomas R. Abbott of Atlasburg, Pa., a Klansman.Twenty-five hundred dollars has been offered by the Klan for the arrest
and conviction of Abbott's slayer
or slayers, another $2,500 offered for the arrest and conviction of the inciters of the fatal riot, and more than 100 Klansmen are guarding the paraphernalia on the hill, just outside of Carnegie, where the 3,000 novitiates were initiated Saturday evening.Both rewards are understood to have been offered by the Pennsylvania Realm of Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.Dr. H. W. Evans, Imperial wizard
of the order who attended the meeting,
issued a statement, in which he declared "Klansman Abbott was killed
because he exercised his constitutionally guaranteed right to peaceable
assembly, free speech and free movement over the highways of our country." He also said that the action of the mob at Carnegie was of anarchy.Sixteen men who were arrested
early yesterday in connection with the rioting were released. No charges were placed against them. Three men are being held in the county jail
who are said to have had revolvers
and a handful of bricks during the fight. The ten reported wounded are recovering, according to authorities
today. It is estimated that fully 20-300 Klansmen attended the initiations
Saturday night.REESE CASE GOES

Of Youngstown.Columbus, Aug. 27.—In the hearing of Wm. G. Reese, suspended mayor of Youngstown, before Gov. Donahoe at 1:30 p. m. today on charges of failure to enforce liquor, gambling and vice laws, the prosecution will probably call no witness to the stand, Judge E. E. Corn, counsel for the state, has announced.The record of conditions in Youngstown taken during the hearing of Chief of Police James Watkins last week,
so far as it concerns activities of Mayor Reese, will be presented as evidence,
Atty. Clyde Osborne, Youngstown,
representing Reese, having agreed to this procedure.It is expected that the hearing will be concluded today.Clyde Chain Coming developments" John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, remained here today while

a representative of the anthracite miners who threaten to strike next Saturday were in Harrisburg attending the conference requested by Gov.
Pinchot of Pennsylvania. The conference was called in the hope of averting
the waitout.Lewis, whose reason for not attending the Harrisburg meeting, is illness,
failed to show any great enthusiasm
over the conference. He gave the impression
this morning that his interest in the Pinchot conference was negative."The operators will have to unperch themselves or there can be no settlement," he said.Lewis indicated that the only way a strike would be averted would be for the operators to accept the miners
proposition made at the miner-operators conference in New York on Aug. 5.
At that conference Lewis demanded,
among other things, wage increase
for the miners, the eight-hour day
and the check off (collection by the operators of union dues)."One thing," said Lewis this morning,
"the issue will not be settled by arbitration. The miners know only so well the meaning of arbitration.""Any suggestion at the Harrisburg conference to arbitrate will not be entertained."Lewis reiterated that the miners
had entered the Harrisburg conference
as a "matter of courtesy" to Gov.
Pinchot, and that the acceptance of the invitation did not mean the miners had conceded, or would concede anything.Lewis is duly represented in Harrisburg today by the international vice president of the union, Philip Murray.
It is understood instructions to Murray are not to permit the conference
to become a battle of statistics
and to hasten the conference as much as possible.Lewis, meantime, plans to remain
here indefinitely and nurse his cold.
He will be ready to act promptly, however,
in the event joint negotiations
are resumed.Program Presented

In Children's PageantPageant Of Progress Introduces Pantomimes, Character
Acts, Comedy, Classic And Feature Dancing; Will Be Given Wednesday As Playgrounds Benefit.When more than a hundred of Salem's
most talented children take part in the Community Service pageant
to be presented at Reilly field at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, it will be seen what benefits are derived from public playground associations and training.This pageant, "Pageant of Play,"
will serve as a fitting climax to the season's playground activities and play in the true sense of the word will be witnessed in this presentation.While there is no actual plot to the pageant it introduces an interesting
amount of pantomime, character acts, comedy, classic and feature dancing.The pageant opens with the appearance of the Spirit of the Woods, who dances in to the rhythm of Grieg's
"Morning Song." Miss Jeannette Stollard,
prominent in this troop, Girl Scout activities, will assume the role of the Woods spirit. She performs a solo dance accompanied by a group of children.Then appear the flower fairies and two butterflies, the little Misses Mary Louise Coles and Virginia Bumbaugh.
They do a butterfly dance. A dialogue between the little sister and Big Sister follows and then Big Sister renders a classic solo dance.Th Spirit of Play then trips in to the melody of Humoresque, closely followed by the Game Sprite, Luberta Reese.
A series of dances such as old fashioned folk dances, Danish,
Bluebird, Yankee Doodle and a Swedish
Clap dance are presented.At this point the story book is introduced and from its massive contents steps O'ld Mother Goose leading a live goose. In swift order thereafter
the children are entertained by the good old fairy tales.First on the scene is Little Red Ridinghood and the Wolf, this story
being acted in Pantomime; next appears Cinderella, famous fairy tale
characters followed the hail and rain storm.

here today in connection with the first
general election in the Irish Free State.
Snipers became active and Free State troops responded by turning machine guns loose against the buildings where the sharpshooters
were hidden.Although it was the noisiest battle
in months no casualties were reported.
President William T. Cosgrave of the Dail disclosed that the Republicans had ordered him kidnapped, evidently in reprisal for the arrest of Eamonn De Valera.President Cosgrave issued the following election manifesto to the nation:"We rendered our account. We secured peace and order. If you want them maintained you had better act
today than regret it tomorrow."The early polling "proved heavier than expected. Many old women stood in line outside the booths. The results
probably will be announced Wednesday night."Free State leaders said they expected to win at least 65 of the 153 Dail
Eireann seats.Many Guards On Duty
Police and civic guards were on duty
throughout the country. The register of voters numbered 1,500,000.Detectives were stationed at the 500
polling places to prevent fraud.
Leaders of the Republicans admitted
they could not gain control of the Dail, but said they would keep up the fight. It was predicted that the farmers would obtain 44 seats, labor 25
and that the Republicans and Independents would get about 19 seats between them.Owing to the system of proportional representation it was conceded that Eamonn De Valera, chief leader of the Republicans, who now is in prison,
would be elected to the Dail in County Clare, but it is doubtful if he will be allowed to take his seat.There are many women candidates, including Mary McSwiney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork, who died in an English prison, and the Countess Markiewicz.MASONS WIN FROM championship from Lisbon Saturday at the county fair ground diamond. The battle was a thriller from start to finish.

Lisbon took an early lead, but was nosed out by one run at the finish
which was of the whirlwind type, the final score being 8 to 7.Three games were played during the summer, Lisbon winning the first and Salem the other two.SALEM CHINA CO.

the village again assumes the even tenor of its way."No less than ten sermons were

minister of a half century experience

the morning hour in the same building.

Addresses Record Crowd

The fervor of evangelistic appeal
reached a climax in the final service
of the assembly when the son of the afternoon speaker, Homer L. Cox, nephew of the First Friends church of Cleveland, spoke to the largest Sunday evening audience the yearly meeting has had in years on the subject,
"Prepare to Meet Thy God." A large number responded to the appeal.Officially the assembly closed its business Saturday afternoon when
final committee reports were received.
An epistle setting forth the beliefs
of Ohio Yearly Meeting on fundamental religious doctrines was formulated
and sent to the ten other Orthodox American Yearly Meetings
and two across the Atlantic.Final brief messages were spoken
by visiting ministers at this session,
and credentials were given them to

of their ministry.The first Friends yearly meeting

Home Influence

EIGHTY per cent of the young men committed to the Mansfield reformatory came from broken homes, so Dr. J. A. Leonard said after completing 15 years' service there as superintendent. By broken homes he said he meant homes broken by death or domestic upheaval and homes in which the boys failed to receive the wholesome training in morals, thrift, industry, honesty and service that makes the foundation for character and without which the young people were wholly unprepared to meet and master the tests of life. His greatest plea in combating crime among the young was for the development of the Christian home and the proper training of the young people.

While he was serving as governor of Massachusetts Calvin Coolidge spoke frequently on that point. It was his conclusion that the greatness of America has been won, in a large way, by men and women who had been trained in good homes, who had ample foundation for character, who had a right view of their relation to their neighbors and to the nation. The Coolidge thought runs often to the things that pertain to the home, the goodly influences there exerted, the upbuilding of character it brings and the quality of Americanism that results. The destiny of America, he has said many times, rests on the influences that center about the family hearthstone, the sound philosophy that subordinates the building of fortune to the building of individual character.

H. Addington Bruce wrote recently in The Chicago News on the unrestful homes of the country, a sound rebuke to the thoughtless and a strong picture of ill results. Too many homes, he insisted, were wholly lacking in restfulness in peace and in the furtherance of the delightful influences that count for so much when developed. People rush about too much when at home, he pointed out, they rush to breakfast, rush to their work, rush home and through dinner that they may rush to some entertainment, probably jazz and all that goes with it, then rush home to rush to bed that they may sleep before repeating the same wearying program. There is no quietude in the unrestful home, no social hour when the family is there together, none of the fine comradeship that ought to be in evidence in the home. He pleads for the cultivation of those good things in the home that are being neglected, a turn from the unrestful to the quiet and peace of a normal home that results of value may be secured.

The Air Mail

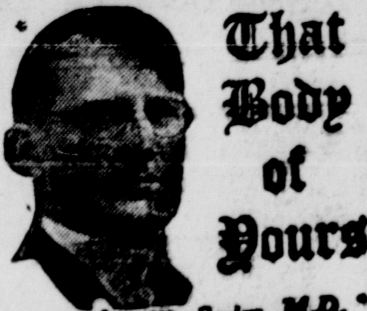

ON May 3 of this year the world awoke to learn that two aviators, Lieutenants Kelly and Macready, had flown the 2,600 miles across the United States without a stop in 26 hours and 50 minutes. Twenty-five years ago the Wright brothers had not yet succeeded in getting off the ground with their "visionary" contraption. The spanning of the continent in little more than a day would then have been a theme only for dreamers. But at the feat of Kelly and Macready the country only said "Well, well."

Now, less than four months after that historic flight, the postoffice department has begun to send mail across the continent by airplane, not as a special "stunt" but with the intention of establishing a regular service. The eastward mail was delivered from San Francisco to Mincola in 27 hours and 58 minutes, just 68 minutes longer than it took Lieutenants Kelly and Macready for their westward trip. And the country hardly bothers even to say "Well, well."

The modern world takes its miracles calmly.

Well, We Couldn't Do Any Better. The Sunday school lesson was the twenty-third Psalm, and the teacher read the passage: "I saw the prosperity of the wicked. For there are no bands in their death." Turning to one little fellow she asked him what he thought this meant.

"Why, teacher," he replied, "I guess it means that wicked men mustn't have military funerals."—Boston Transcript.

That Body of Yours

HOW ARE YOU THIS MORNING?

This salutation is addressed to you so often that perhaps it means nothing to you now.

And yet did you ever think that your actual feelings, your temper, your disposition may vary with the day?

It was Lord Chesterfield who said:

"A light supper, a good night's sleep and a fine morning often make a hero of the same man who by indigestion, a restless night and a rainy morning, would have proved a coward."

Don't misunderstand me. Many a man is a hero irrespective of food, sleep, or weather. Our boys proved that in France.

But the point I wish to make is that you must expect to be grouchy, not your real self, with lowered capacity for work, and your courage at low ebb if you neglect the ordinary common sense rules of health. And in these days of close competition of speed, and nerve tension, you've got to be at your best.

As the head of a university once said: "The constipated man is not responsible for his actions, mentally, morally or physically." Strong language, isn't it?

And so with hard work mental or physical on the morrow try to remember Lord Chesterfield's saying.

We all need every ounce of courage and stamina these days. Let us then not do the foolish physical things that keep us from being our best.

Radiant.

OUR DELIVERY SYSTEM

Free Delivery
Any Hour

If you do some shopping in the morning, your packages are delivered that afternoon, perhaps.

If you buy a car, you may get delivery in thirty days, and you may not!

Electric service is delivered instantly—the instant that you press the button. There's no F. O. B. or C. O. D. about it either. No transportation charges. No charges of any kind until after the current has been used.

Did you ever stop to think, too, that electricity is delivered WHERE you need to use it—in the very place you need to use it. The evening paper lands on the front lawn. The mail is placed outside in a box. Coal for the parlor grate is dumped in the basement.

But electricity is right there in the lamp or the iron or the toaster—right there where you want to use it.

CHURCH IS FILLED FOR CONVENTION

Dr. Chaney And Congress-man Cooper Speak At S. S. Sessions.

Washingtonville, Aug. 27.—The M. E. church was filled for both the afternoon and evening sessions of the 182nd session of the Green Township Sunday School association Sunday. Inspiring addresses were given by Dr. N. H. Chaney and Congressman John G. Cooper, both of Youngstown.

A union orchestra composed of members of the M. E. schools in Washingtonville and Leetonia and the Lutheran school, Washingtonville, furnished special music. The M. E. choir supplied special numbers for the evening service. All of the Sunday schools in the township report progress.

M. E. Church Activities. The attendance at Sunday school Sunday was 153. At the morning service four new members were received into the church.

Tuesday evening the Epworth league cabinet meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Theodore Riddle.

Thursday evening at 7:30 prayer service. Friday evening the Epworth league will hold a camp fire at the home of Harry Archer. This will be a farewell party for Harry, who will leave next week to enter Asbury college.

Community Picnic. The Washingtonville community picnic will be held Wednesday at Eagleton glens. Busses will leave the Lutheran church at 8:30. The committee expects to make this the best picnic that the community has ever held. A program of sports has been arranged and a ball game between the married and unmarried men will be a feature.

Birthday Party. Forty young people assembled at the home of Miss Helen Stecker Saturday evening to celebrate her 16th birthday anniversary. The affair was a complete surprise. Helen received many beautiful gifts. Lunch was served by Mrs. Stecker assisted by Mrs. John Fieldhouse, Mrs. Mathew Fieldhouse and Mrs. Percy Lyne.

Out of town guests included Elma, Margaret and William Spooner, Thomas Woods, Joseph Knight and Harry Hill, all of East Palestine.

Personal Notes. Miss Margaret Metz, of Leetonia, visited Sunday with Miss Elva Lowther.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hum have gone on an automobile trip to Washington and other points.

Miss Lena Bowker, of Salem, visited over the week end with her parents.

Evelyn Boston returned home Saturday from Beloit, where she visited with relatives the last two weeks.

Mrs. C. H. Weikart and daughter, Mary, Mildred Frankford, Pearl Ward Evelyn Boston, Mrs. Charles Taylor and Miss Mary Fitzsimmons were among the Salem shoppers Saturday.

Miss Ruth Weikart, of Youngstown, spent the week end at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weikart, of Newburg, N. Y., are visiting with Mrs. C. H. Weikart.

Mrs. Susan Rohrer, William and Clyde Rohrer, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rohrer motored to Mansfield Saturday to spend the week with relatives there.

C. H. Blackburn, of Lisbon, was a caller at the home of Mrs. Charles Taylor Sunday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Woods Saturday morning.

Lawrence Callahan returned from Cleveland Saturday having spent the past week there.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Haubensee and children of Canton visited over the week end with Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Davis.

THREE ROBED MEN GIVE WOMAN $50

Leetonia, Aug. 27.—When Mrs. Louis Frank answered a knock at the door of her home here late Friday night, she was confronted by three white robed figures, one of whom handed a letter, whereupon all three silently departed.

The letter upon being opened was found to contain $50 and a sheet of note paper bearing the following message: "Dear Mrs. Frank: In the name of the Ku Klux Klan of Leetonia, we enclose fifty ($50) dollars for yourself and children. We pray you will accept it in the same spirit it is given. Wishing you a happier future, we are, your friends, Ku Klux Klan."

RADIO

(Edited by G. Douglas Wardrop.

Editor of Radio Merchandising.

Usually little thought is given to this end of the equipment. The receiver itself may be a beautiful job, carefully soldered and wired, but frequently the aerial is sadly neglected.

Here are a few things to remember. The aerial should always be in a straight line. Some beginners have restricted spaces for aerials and they think that by running the aerial in the form of a square all around the edge of the roof they will get better results. Others erect three poles on the roof and run a single wire in the form of a triangle. This is a waste of time and wire.

Run it straight away and not over 100 feet long. Remember that if it is too high it will pick up more static, and if it is too low, the signals will not be as good on long distance. A happy medium must be hit somewhere in between.

The lead-in wire should be taken from one of the ends and not from the middle. If the latter way of taking off the aerial is used the effective length of the aerial will be just about cut in half. In other words, use an inverted L aerial and not a T aerial.

If it is not possible to erect the aerial all in one length and in the same direction, it is permissible to make a two or three wire aerial. However, it must be remembered that two wires each 50 feet in length are not the same as a single wire 100 feet long. There may be 100 feet of wire in the aerial, but the effective length will not be for the full 100 feet.

Be sure to insulate the aerial from all surrounding objects. If the lead-in wire comes into contact with any of the surrounding objects there will be a decided tendency for the current to leak off, and for the best results, especially on DX signals, advantage must be taken of every little thing.

The ground connection is fully as important as the aerial, as it forms a part of the open circuit. The best ground connection is to the cold water pipe, as this is the shortest and most direct lead to the earth. The hot water pipes and the radiator system will do if necessary, but there are many more joints in a system of this kind, and as these pipe joints are made up with white or red lead there will be a high resistance, which is to be avoided. Scrape the cold water pipe until it shows a shiny finish and then either use one of the ground clamps that may be purchased, or, better yet, take about ten turns of the ground wire around this pipe and solder them in place. If the ground clamp is used, this also should be soldered to the pipe. Solder all connections in both the aerial and the ground for the best results.

Some Suggestions on Laying Out Radio Set

First decide definitely what kind of set is to be built. Purchase the best quality of apparatus, having the electrical characteristics that the particular set requires. Take special care to select parts of good mechanical construction as well.

Lay the instruments on the table, trying different arrangements of the parts until an arrangement is found with symmetrical appearance, and with as short wires to the tuning grid and plate circuits as can be secured.

When the proper layout is found, a scale laid alongside of the parts will give an approximate idea of the size panel it will be necessary to buy. Try to arrange the parts to fit a standard-size panel, which may be purchased at almost any radio store.

Particular care should be taken in the wiring of the set to keep grid and plate wires separate and away from the filament wires. This will reduce the liability of squealing and broad tuning to a minimum.

The filament circuit may be of almost any length, provided the wires that carry the current are large enough to prevent an excessive drop in voltage. Number 14, or the square bus wire sold for wiring sets, is very good for this purpose.

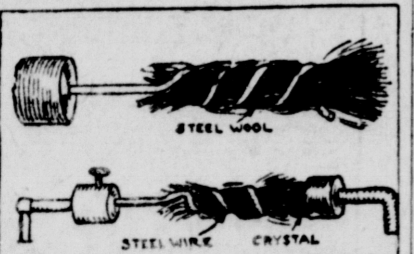

The output circuit of a two-stage amplifier should never be brought near to the grid circuit of the detector tube, as howling almost inevitably results. More cases of howling amplifiers can be traced to improper placing of the wires than to any other one cause.

In wiring a set don't try to do too many things at once. Start at the input end and work across to the output end. When connecting a set with vacuum tubes, connect the filament wires to the sockets and rheostats first, and then follow from input to output circuits.

A grounded copper sheet on the back of the panel where the condenser or variometer is mounted is of considerable value both as a shield against the effects of the operator's hands when tuning, and as a convenient place to solder such wires as need to be grounded. Especial care should be taken to cut out around all screw and shaft holes, or any other places where the metal parts of condensers or other instruments may touch the shield.

Multiple Catwhisker Made of Steel Wool

If you have trouble in finding a sensitive place on the crystal try this method, which is used with much success. Secure a small piece of steel wool and then wind a piece of wire around it, allowing some of the steel to stick out at the end. Cut the end off with a pair of tinner's snips to make a "broom" end and spread the ends out evenly. Attach this steel wool whisker to the set. Apply the broom end lightly to the crystal. You will have many steel points out of which one or more will find a sensitive spot.

Inside Antenna. Remarks about excellent quality of indoor aerials with crystal sets are as frequent as comments upon their efficiency. This difference is, of course, due to the conditions under which the aerials were operated. As a rule, indoor aerials are unsuccessful on the first floor of a building or where surrounding high structures may intercept the waves before they strike the antenna. In suburban locations or in elevated sections of the city considerably better results may be obtained.

Much Troublesome and Needless Interference

Users of regenerative radio receiving sets should be very careful in regulating the filament current on the detector tubes of their receiving outfits.

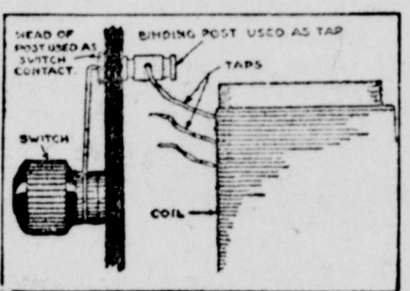

A regenerative receiver acts as a miniature transmitting station and a great deal of troublesome and needless interference can be created in a neighborhood by a user of this type of receiver who is not acquainted with the facts regarding their operation. The wailing, howling noise sometimes heard on a receiving set is, in many instances, due to the users of a regenerative set tuning their dials in an effort to tune in a broadcasting station.

Much of this interference can be eliminated by burning the filament on the detector tube at a maximum brilliancy necessary to receive the desired signals. Users of this type of equipment, after tuning in their station, should reduce the filament current as much as possible. By observing this rule they will not only prolong the life of their tubes and batteries, but will make receiving conditions much better for their neighbors who may be trying to tune in at the same time.

The amount of energy radiated by a regenerative receiver is directly proportionate to the brilliancy of the filament in the detector circuit.

To Make Switch Point Out of Binding Post

Experimenters who desire to make changes do not like to unsolder wires from switch taps. The illustration shows a method of making switch points out of binding posts and if a change is desired it can be done without much trouble. The knurled set-screw head is used for the switch points. The base, which is back of the panel, is used for the connection and it may also be held with the screw for attaching the binding post to its base.

Keep Antenna in the Air During Summer

"Is it advisable to take the antenna down during the summer in order to protect the set from being struck by lightning?" This is a popular question of this season of the year.

The danger from lightning may be reduced to a minimum providing proper safeguards are adopted. There is no more danger from the antenna being struck by lightning than there is from the telephone or electric light wires running into the house. An antenna properly grounded serves as a lightning rod gradually letting the static charges leak away to the ground before they have a chance to gather and attract an opposite charge from the clouds. It is estimated that a radio antenna not only protects the house with which it is connected but the surrounding area equal to the size of a city block. Every owner of a radio antenna should have a feeling of safety during an electric storm.

The Idle Battery. Storage batteries which are to stand idle for a month or two should be fully charged before being put away. If the battery is permitted to stand for any length of time in a discharged condition, the plates will become white, an indication that sulphate is forming, which is very harmful to the cells.

ESSAY CONTEST ON IMMIGRATION

American Legion Sponsoring Contest For Youths Between 12 And 18.

Any Ohio youth between the ages of 12 and 18 is given the opportunity to enter the American Legion's national essay contest on the subject, "Why America Should Prohibit Immigration for Five Years." The first national prize is $750 the second prize is $500 and the third is $250. The first prize in Ohio will be a silver medal; second prize, a bronze medal; third prize, a Certificate of Merit. The cash prizes will be used only towards scholarships in colleges designated by the winners.

In bringing this contest to the attention of school officials the State Department of Education summarizes the regulations which are to govern contestants. Attention is called to the fact that the essays must not exceed 500 words and must be written on only one side of the paper with a one-inch margin on both edges. Spelling, penmanship and neatness will be considered in judging the winner; age will also be given full consideration.

The county superintendent of each county is asked to select three judges who will select the one best essay from that county and forward it to Milton Campbell, Department of Americanism Chairman, 335 South High St., Columbus. The county superintendent must receive the essays from contestants not later than midnight of October 12. The winning essay in each county should be forwarded to Mr. Campbell not later than midnight of Nov. 1. The State Director of Education will appoint the three state judges.

PLANTS THAT ARE POISONOUS

Many of Those in Common Use Are Capable of Producing Mild Irritation of the Skin.

Although poison ivy is one of the worst offenders, it frequently is blamed for poisoning caused by other plants, says Dr. W. W. Stockberger of the United States Department of Agriculture. The department has a list of more than 100 such plants that grow in this country, and it is probable that there are others that may be poisonous to some persons. Not all of these plants are equally poisonous, and, too, there is great variation in the susceptibility of persons.

Because some of these common plants are used for ornament in the home is no reason to fear them, as most persons are not affected by them and in the great majority of cases the irritation of the skin is mild. This would probably hold true of such plants as the tomato, geranium, daffodil and many others that are known to cause skin poisoning. Such plants, though, as the nettles are irritating to most persons.

In the long list of plants having these toxic properties are the following, which are well known, but not all of them generally known to be poisonous: Aconite, allanthes, asparagus, catalpa, dog fennel, lady's slipper, wild carrot, hop, lobelia, oleander, nightshade, oxeye daisy, pansy, pokeweed, smartweed, primula, buttercup, poison elder or poison dogwood, bloodroot, mullein, cocklebur and the mustard. The pollen of the Easter lily has been known to cause irritation of the skin, but this is probably as rare as poisoning by leaves of the geranium or the carrot. Some of these plants are poisonous when taken internally, but the list has been made out on the basis of being irritating to the skin.

Grain sowing by airplane is proposed.

DONAHEY HITS DRY AGENTS' METHODS

Declares Commercialism Of Enforcement Bodies Causes Alarm.

Columbus, Aug. 27.—Commercialized law enforcement in Ohio is nearing its end and the customary, official methods of law enforcing within the state are gaining ground, is the belief in Columbus as the result of the hearing of Chief of Police James Watkins, of Youngstown, whose fate is now in the hands of Gov. A. V. Donahey.

The governor, while discussing things that were entirely apart from the case at issue said: "I have been watching the growth of private law enforcement organizations. I must admit that their commercialization is something which will soon cause alarm. We cannot and will not tolerate the establishment of an enforcement body conducted on a business basis and not responsible to the voters and elected officials of the state county and municipality. We are glad to get all encouragement and help of all law abiding citizens in trying to enforce the laws and particularly the liquor laws, but commercialization, which is spreading at an alarming rate is contrary to the spirit of American institutions."

Gov. Donahey seems sick and tired of hearing cases, preferred to most cases by bodies similar to the Youngstown Dry League, against elected officials.

Sugar, as is well known, will catch more flies than vinegar; but at present such bait is too expensive. It will be necessary to resort to the swatter.

SOCIETY

Birthday Celebration

D. L. Mounts, of Valley, celebrated his 55th birthday anniversary Sunday at his home with 86 relatives and friends present from Salem, Lisbon, Sebring, Sharon, East Rochester and East Liverpool. A picnic dinner was enjoyed.

Besides his brothers and sisters present, were the Zepernick and Reamers families, relatives of Mrs. Mounts, and it was decided by these families to form an association and hold annual reunions. These officers were elected:

President, Fred Pritchard, Lisbon; vice president, L. S. Zepernick, Sebring; secretary, Allie Reamers, East Rochester; corresponding secretary, George Zepernick, East Rochester; treasurer, Jason Zepernick, Sebring.

The 1924 reunion will be on the last Sunday in August at Placencia lake, near North Georgetown.

Birthday Surprise

Harry Albright was complimented with a surprise party Sunday at the Salem Country club, where the family is camping, in celebration of his birthday anniversary, the event being arranged by Mrs. Albright. There were about 35 in the company, some of them coming from Pittsburgh, Salem, Columbia, Fairfield, Lisbon, Leetonia and Wino.

A picnic dinner was enjoyed and vocal selections were given by a quartet. Violin music entertained.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. Louis Meyers and Mrs. Harry Scullion, Jr., arranged a surprise gathering Sunday for Mrs. Harry Scullion, Sr., at the latter's home, 203 Pershing ave., in honor of her birthday anniversary. A family dinner was served to the 25 guests and Mrs. Scullion received many presents. William Hall of Canton; Mrs. Siskler of Lisbon and Mr. and Mrs. Ed all of Leetonia were present.

STATE FAIR OPENS MONDAY MORNING

Program Includes Pageant, Horse Show, Big Fireworks Display.

Columbus, Aug. 27.—Despite rain and an overcast sky, the state fair opened auspiciously today, designated as Ladies' and Patriotic day.

The fact that the fair was complete to the last detail, with all exhibits in readiness when the gates opened to the public at 8 a. m., did much to add to the success of the first day of the fair.

Judging of horses, cattle, swine and sheep as well as examinations for awards in poultry, farm products and horticulture began this morning.

Throughout the day music by the Forstoria band, the Ninth Ohio band, Lampham's band and the American Legion band was almost continuous.

Tonight will see the first exhibition of the horse show, the pageant, "Citizen birds" with 1000 people in the east and an extensive fireworks program. These features will be every night during fair week.

TREE MADE MARRIAGE ALTAR

Romantic Use to Which Beautiful Forest Specimen Has Been Put in Texas Community.

Man has discovered many uses for the beautiful trees that Mother Nature has provided him with, but the young and romantic lovers of San Saba, Tex., come forward with a new use, as they have turned a large, spreading live oak tree into a marriage altar, writes R. E. McNatt in American Forestry.

This huge oak, which is commonly known as the matrimonial altar, stands like a deserted giant in the middle of the public road on the edge of San Saba. All its companions have gone down before the crush of man, but in spite of the fact that this one stands in the road, its huge size and beauty, and the tradition that goes with it, have saved it from the heavy swing of the woodman's ax.

Tradition in this part of the country has it that long before the white man invaded the valley, brave and daring Indian warriors and shy Indian maidens who had been smitten by the arrows of little Pan Cupid stole from the wigwams and made love under the boughs of this huge oak, while the moon sent its mystic and silvery rays down through the leaves.

Whether the Indian used the matrimonial altar to woo his future squaw is not known, but it is a widely known fact that some of the oldest and most prominent citizens of this section of the country were united for life while under the tree, and to day lovers still seek the shady boughs of the spreading oak. In the spring, especially in June, as many as three and four couples are sometimes married under the tree on one Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McCave and daughter, Mary June, have returned to Cleveland, after a visit with relatives here.

Misses Margaret Obenour and Hannah Ewing, of Youngstown, are guests of the former's uncle, W. H. Bead.

Harold Brian left Monday for Kane, Pa., to spend a few weeks.

DENTIST IS SLAIN NEAR PUBLIC HALL

Cleveland Police Holding Negro With Whom Man Had Quarreled.

Cleveland, Aug. 27.—Dr. Horace Hamilton, a dentist, was found murdered at the bottom of an outside stairway in the rear of the Cleveland Public hall today. Police are holding a negro suspect with whom Hamilton was reported to have quarreled yesterday morning.

Hamilton's skull was crushed with the heavy blow behind the right ear. His hands had wounds made with a knife. The knife with the blade open was tightly gripped in the fingers of the right hand. His face was covered with his straw hat, which apparently had been placed there after his death.

Hamilton, according to Dr. Edward Smiley, who identified the body at the county morgue, came here from Norfolk July 3. Smiley, who also came from Norfolk, said Hamilton was about 35 years of age, and married, but had separated from his wife.

STATE WILL HELP REPAIR DETOURS

A letter from the State Highway department which notified the county commissioners that the Highway department would go 50-50 on the repair of all roads used as detours on the 2200 a mile was the cause of a resolution Monday to repair the Hephner-Hollow rd., which has been used as a detour toward Hanoverton. Parts of this road are in very bad condition, the brick paving having given way resulting in deep holes that have been filled with gravel.

The latter stated that the department required a dirt road to be improved as a gravel road, and it was not the purpose to allow surfacing with any other material.

Mrs. Comisky Near Collapse Following Holdup By Bandits

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Grace Comisky, daughter-in-law of Charles A. Comisky, owner of the White Sox baseball team, today was in a state bordering on nervous collapse, following her experience late Sunday when she and Edward (Big Ed) Walsh, former big league pitcher, were held up in the Comisky home in South Michigan ave. and robbed of jewelry valued $10,000.

So serious was her condition that two detectives guarded the home all night to quiet her fears.

Mrs. Comisky and Walsh were held up by two negro bandits when they went to the back yard to lock up Comisky's pup for the night, after returning from the Post Graduate hospital, where they had visited Louis Comisky, her husband.

sweetheart and her prince and they give a dance number. Immediately following this number there will be a jolly pantomime and dance.

Bo-Peep also will be seen in a pantomime and Jack orner simply must take this occasion to eat his Christmas pie in public. Goldlocks and the three bears set their age-old tale in pantomime. King Cole, as always a merry old soul, takes his part in the pageant accompanied by the pipe bearer, the bowl bearer and his three famous fiddlers.

Brian Rosebud in her dance interpretation is all ready for her debut while Fuss-In-Boots will be brim full of comedy antics for this occasion. An interval of play and Spirit of Toyland in a dance number to the swaying of the children's chorus body and a finale selection will close the program.

Hundertmark's orchestra will provide the musical accompaniment and a list of appropriate selections have been secured to carry out the artistic atmosphere of the entire pageant.

The proceeds of the pageant will be used for playground equipment and other playground purposes.

made by the draft during the World war along this line. "Upon this matter of public health there is such a vast amount of ignorance," he stated. He pointed out the tragedy of this condition, economically, socially and morally.

The speaker dwelt at some length on ignorance in Europe and its effect on the countries there. He quoted the prime minister of Australia as saying: "When ignorance clamors for power and gets it, the nation is doomed."

A pleasing part of the afternoon program was the program presented by Junior Town organization, in charge of Miss Mary Morgan, junior supervisor, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Miller of this city. The numbers were heartily applauded.

The officers of Junior Town were introduced to the large audience. The program consisted of a song, folk dances and stunts.

The National Male quartet, directed by Charles Cox of Missouri, basso and comedian, gave the musical numbers, which were some of the best on the week's program. The quartet also presented the entertainment Saturday evening, the closing session of the chautauqua. Their program of songs, solos, and quartet numbers was imitations by Mr. Cox was highly pleasing.

GIRLS! MAKE A LEMON CREAM TO BEAUTIFY SKIN

Mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin softener and complexion beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon cream into the face, neck, arms and hands, then shortly note the youthful beauty, softness and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this harmless lemon cream to bring that velvety, clear, rosy white complexion also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

A Supper

That millions are now serving

Quaker Puffed Wheat in milk is the greatest night dish homes have ever served.

The grains are steam exploded—puffed to 8 times normal size. Each is a tidbit, airy, toasted, flavory, crisp.

Over 125 million steam explosions are caused in every kernel. Thus the food cells are broken for easy digestion.

So here is whole wheat made delicious and digestible. Children revel in it. And whole wheat supplies 10 elements they need.

A Breakfast

Which can never be excelled

Quaker Puffed Rice stands supreme among all cereal dainties. Each grain is a nut-like puff.

It forms a food confection. Serve with cream and sugar. Mix in every dish of fruit. Crisp and serve with melted butter for children to eat like peanuts when at play.

The great food essentials—minerals, vitamins, bran

Whole wheat supplies 12 minerals which growing children must have. It supplies their need of bran. And milk is rich in vitamins.

You want your family, every day, to get these elements in plenty. Then serve in this delightful form.

Never let a day go by without at least one serving of Quaker Puffed Wheat in milk.

LEETONIA

Members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church are planning to attend the convention of the Columbia County Union which convenes in Salem Thursday evening and Friday. The address of welcome will be given by Walter L. Strain of Salem, the response by Miss Anna Rapp of Columbiana.

Many people from Leetonia attended the Harvest Home picnic at Eagleton glens Saturday.

Miss Emma Rauch entertained members of the Busy Bee society of the Methodist church Friday evening at her home on the North Side. Music, games and sewing were pleasures of the evening to which the hostess contributed by serving refreshments.

William Bradley is the guest of Youngstown relatives.

Mrs. Martha Wharton was the guest of her friend Miss Helen Weikart in Washingtonville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lodge have left for a motor trip to Newport, Ky. where they will be guests of their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Kaufman.

Mrs. Sherman Ward and daughter Miss Alverta and their grandmother, Mrs. Lucinda Harmon, attended the funeral of a nephew Sylvanus Breneman at Columbiana.

Mrs. Patsy Wren and children are home after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McGrath of Youngstown, and relatives in New Castle and Wampum, Pa.

Mrs. Margaret Shea having concluded a long visit with her daughters Mrs. J. C. Henner of Leetonia, and Mrs. Herman Poyock at Youngstown, returned the past of the week to her home at Irwin, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Bixler of Kittanning, Pa., who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Groner of Leetonia after attending the Culp reunion Friday morning to Carrollton to visit relatives.

The women of the Presbyterian Missionary society spent Wednesday afternoon at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herr. After several hours of social pleasures a picnic supper was enjoyed.

Mrs. Lucinda Harmon visited her granddaughter Miss Florence Hoffmaster in Salem Friday.

Miss Alberta Ward was a Salem business caller Friday.

Mrs. Arthur Switzer has returned from several days' visit with Cleveland friends.

First Step Taken To Lay Deep Sea Cable

New York, Aug. 27.—The American end of the largest and fastest deep-sea cable ever manufactured was landed Saturday at the cable station of the Postal Telegraph Commercial Cables system at Far Rockaway, N. Y., from the cable ship "Faraday." This is the first step in the laying of a new cable between the United States and Europe.

The "Faraday" now on her maiden voyage, has left for Canso, Nova Scotia, laying the Farrockaway-Canso section of the cable. Its length is about 1,000 miles.

The cable ship "Colonia," the largest of her kind in the world in now on her way to Canso, where she will commence to lay another section of the new cable, about 1,750 miles in length, from Canso to the Azores Islands.

At the Azores, connection will be made with cables reaching London by way of Waterville, Ireland, and later in the fall a new section of 1,546 miles already under manufacture will be submerged between the Azores and Havre, France.

ABILITY TO SAY "I SAW IT"

Makes Ticketholder at Public Spectacle Get Idea That He Had His Money's Worth.

Questions from Shakespeare and the Bible, analogies drawn from the fall of Rome, and accusations of "loose thinking" are all powerful weapons in an argument, but the most effective is the stout assertion: "I saw it with my own eyes."

This explains why many spectators who have paid substantial sums to see a somewhat disappointing spectacle, such as a recent fight in Jersey City, and go to bed chagrined, come to believe before the following noon that they have had their money's worth. For theirs is the thrill of speaking with authority, says the New York Sun and Globe. Instead of being brusquely contradicted after each statement, they are listened to with respect and are freely quoted and appealed to by disputants who have not paid for the title of "eyewitness." Probably at the next event there will be many buying tickets with the resolve that "this time if that dub Jones tries to tell me what happened, I'll tell him what I saw, and let him know where to get off."

SAW METEORITE AS IT FELL

English Field Laborer Within Fifteen Yards of Projectile—Various Minerals in Its Composition.

The British museum recently received a very interesting gift in the form of a meteorite which fell not long ago near Saffron Walden, in Essex.

About one o'clock in the afternoon a laborer in a field at Ashdon heard a hissing sound, which he took to be the noise of an airplane. Looking up, he was astonished to see, not a plane, but a projectile rushing to the earth. It struck the ground about fifteen yards away, throwing up the soil all round like water.

The man was so much alarmed that he hurried away, but a day or two later returned to the spot with another man and dug out a meteorite, which was found at a depth of two feet.

It weighs about three pounds, and is five inches long and four inches wide, with a thickness of three inches. The stone is composed of various minerals and has in it many small particles of iron.

It is an extremely rare occurrence for anyone to see a meteorite actually fall to earth, only fifteen such instances being recorded in the British Isles.

Kindly Act Betrayed Burglar.

His fingerprints on a glass in which he had gallantly offered a maid servant a drink of water proved the undoing of a burglar who tried to rob the home of a magistrate in Pontypool, Wales. Awakening her with his flashlight, the burglar threatened to strike the girl if she made any noise, but when she said she felt faint he handed her a glass of water, asking where the money and jewels were kept. When told there was neither in the house, the intruder disappeared. But the police by means of the fingerprints on the glass were able to trace the burglar, finding him to be a pitman in a Welsh colliery and an old offender. In another instance recently burglars left a note in a house in England they had just robbed, commending the excellent liquors they had found in the cellar.

Couldn't "Get" the Plot.

An English visitor was taken by an American friend to see one of our musical shows. It was the first he had ever attended. He sat through it with a slightly puzzled expression. After the performance they adjourned to a restaurant and the American ventured to ask what he thought of the show. "Did you like it, old fellow?" "The Englishman came to me brave-ly. "Oh, yes. It was a jolly show, a jolly show altogether. Quite so. But I couldn't keep up with the plot for the life of me."

Twentieth Century "Prophet."

A man of considerable ancestry whom King George has lately honored with the grand commandship of the Victorian Order is Aga Khan, eighth descendant in direct and unbroken line from the daughter of the prophet Mohammed, founder of the faith of Islam. Here is a man who is not a potentate robed in the garb of the Near East, but a completely modern man in the western sense—dress suit, horse races, golf, stage, polo, tennis, poker, jazz, etc.

Electricity Warms Swimming Pools.

Thousands will be saved by the two largest electric water heating boilers in the world, which have been installed in the city of Winnipeg's swimming tanks. The new system will warm the water in the pools and supply hot water for the shower baths. The baths will use no more coal whatever. It will mean a saving to the city of several thousand dollars each year.

STOCKS

HIGHER PRICES PREVAIL
New York, Aug. 27.—Although trading at the opening of the stock market today was dull, the list was steady with higher prices prevailing in the oil and steel stocks. The range of prices, however, was only fractional.

Standard Oil of New Jersey at 22 1/2, Marland at 27 1/2 and Sinclair Oil at 20 1/2 showed fractional improvement. Steel common rose to 9 1/2 and Gulf States Steel improved 3/4 to 8 1/2. Baldwin rose 3/4 to 12 1/4. Davison Chemical rose to a new high for the year, selling above 41.

The motors showed little change. The rails were higher, Northern Pacific gaining 1/2 to 57.

NEW PRESIDENT STARTING WELL

WASHINGTON, SPECULATING ON HIS POLICIES, APPROVES HIS FIRST MESSAGE.

HIS RESPONSIBILITY HEAVY

General Belief Is That He Will Carry Out Plans of Harding, Even to Urging American Membership in World Court.

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington.—In a night the chief actors changed in a scene that stands unchanged. Warren G. Harding, whose spirit for work was greater than his body could bear, is dead. Calvin Coolidge, sturdy, willing, but, in a way, as yet untried, has become the President of the United States.

Calvin Coolidge is in the shadow of a heavy responsibility. Washington, and the country with it, doubtless, is asking if he can make a light in a dark place. Washington is doing some speculating on the matter of the policies of the new President. His first message to the American people appealed to men as men, irrespective of party or of their feelings on national and international policies. The message was a model of English and of modesty. Washington said "He begins well."

In his first public pronouncement, made immediately on hearing of the death of his chief, Mr. Coolidge said: "It will be my purpose to carry out the policies which he has begun for the service of the American people and for meeting their responsibilities wherever they may arise."

Republicans and Democrats in Washington have given particular attention to the expression "for meeting their responsibilities wherever they may arise." These words, coupled with the promise to carry out the dead President's policies, Washington interprets as meaning that international policies as well as national policies are to be adhered to.

Coolidge and the World Court.
This matter brings to the attention of Washington politicians at once the matter of American membership in the world court, a matter which Mr. Harding had much at heart and in behalf of which he made what was virtually his last appeal to the American people.

No one in Washington ever has been allowed to know President Coolidge's position on the world court proposal. Generally speaking, the feeling seems to be here that in the spirit if not in the letter of the pronouncement of his first day as President, is to be found a pledge of support for this policy of President Harding, a policy which has divided his party into two camps.

It is at this writing too early to tell whether President Coolidge will press the world court proposal or not, but if he does press it, it seems to be believed in Washington that sentiment for the president who has gone may bring support to the proposal in the senate, which otherwise might have been denied it.

Opponents of American membership in the world court naturally will be affected by the thought that advocacy of the proposal helped to make greater the burden of work which the late president bore. They may also feel that the American people, who are quick to respond to appeals to sentiment, may urge the adoption by the senate of the late president's plan for official representation in the court.

May Call for Show of Courage.
Calvin Coolidge comes from New England and Republicans from New England seemingly for the most part are opposed to anything like American participation in European affairs. Henry Cabot Lodge, senior senator from Massachusetts, is not in entire sympathy, if he is in sympathy at all, with the late president's world court proposal. Most of the representatives in congress from New England are said to be in sympathy with the Lodge position.

Washington, judging from the expressions of some of the greater Republican papers in New England, feels that opinion in the New England states, perhaps generally, is against the court proposal. Calvin Coolidge, if he shall follow the policy line of his predecessor in the world court matter, may find himself out of sympathy with the majority of his party in Massachusetts and in the states thereabouts.

Therefore, as some of the politicians here view it, Mr. Coolidge will show considerable courage if he shall attempt to controvert what may be the will of the majority of his party in his home section.

Something to Be Whispered.
Mary Ellen, a country girl, on her first visit to the city, boarded a street car.

Presently the conductor came up to her and said, "Your fare, miss."

The girl blushed. The conductor repeated, "Your fare, miss," and the girl blushed more deeply.

By this time the conductor began to look foolish. After a pause he tried again: "Miss, your fare!"

"Well," said the girl, "they do say I'm good-looking at home, but I don't see why you want to say it out loud before all these people."

A pest called white pine blister rust is attacking white pine nursery stock in localities from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

TIRED OF SITTING AS TRIAL JUDGE

Governor Donahay Would Let Voters Themselves Decide.

MAY ISSUE A PROCLAMATION

Would Give People Opportunity to Rid Themselves of Officials Who Haven't Done Their Duty—Director
Witter at Odds With Civil Service Commission—League of Women Voters Determined to Get Out Vote.

Columbus, Aug. 27. — It was announced at the governor's office that Governor Donahay has grown weary of sitting as trial judge in the cases of Ohio mayors and other officials accused of nonperformance of prohibition laws. Occupied now with holding court to try Mayor William C. Reese and Police Chief James Watkins of Youngstown, both accused of failing to enforce the dry law and with permitting bootlegging and vice in Youngstown, the governor is disposed to let the people themselves sit as judges on their respective mayors, for the time being, at least.

In other words, the people at the November polls will have an opportunity to rid themselves of mayors who haven't done their duty. Consequently Donahay, unless unusually aggravated cases are presented to him, will take no action. By taking this position, incidentally, he avoids the risk of being dragged into local factional political fights.

It is possible that Governor Donahay may issue a proclamation before the fall election calling upon Ohio voters to go to the polls and demonstrate there the kind of city administration they want. If citizens complain about their elective local officials and then do not vote or fail to campaign against them when they come up for re-election, the governor is inclined to feel that he should not be asked to turn his office into a police court to hear charges against the officials. If he decides to issue the proposed proclamation, the governor will make clear just what he thinks of such situations.

Police officials of Ohio cities who have been complaining about inability to obtain lists of 1923 automobile license numbers and the names of the persons to whom they were issued, have overlooked a point if they blame the state automobile division.

Under the Knapp act, passed by the last legislature, Secretary of State Brown and Automobile Registrar Wilson point out, sending out of the lists was discontinued. The new law requires the secretary of state to keep a complete index of licenses and names and addresses of deputy automobile registrars throughout the state and the numbers assigned to each for distribution. The deputy registrars, provided for by the new law, are required to keep on file one copy of each license application, send one copy to the auditor of the county in which the applicant lives and forward the original to the secretary of state. Registrar Wilson, therefore, has only a record of the licenses he has issued.

Although he won his case before the two members of the state civil service commission, an appeal from his removal as a member of the medical staff, department of industrial relations, Dr. W. F. Bay, a local physician, loses his position. H. R. Witter, director of industrial relations, advised the civil service commission that rather than follow the order of the commission in reinstating Dr. Bay to the position from which he was discharged, as ordered, he would abolish the position, the same to be effective at once. In his letter Mr. Witter asserts that "Doctor Bay is not a man who is fitted for the position, and as long as I am director of industrial relations no person will knowingly be kept on the payroll who is a liability instead of an asset to the operation of the department."

Dr. Bay was discharged after eight years' service by Mr. Witter on the charge of misrepresentation and refusal to follow orders of the department. Dr. Bay appealed his removal and the two members of the state civil service commission found the charges were not back up by evidence and ordered his reinstatement. The action of Director Witter in abolishing the position followed.

Active co-operation in the establishment of the inter-wall correspondence schools in the different state and federal prisons in the United States was promised by Governor Donahay and Warden Thomas in statements by them to Napoleon Hill, promoter of the plan. Warden Thomas will also play an important part in the further selection of studies that will be open to the prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary in the future. A number of the recommendations made by him as to studies most appropriate will be accepted, Mr. Hill announced.

Chaplain Reed has been given a leave of absence for 90 days and will devote this time to organization work at the prison school plan. Negotiations will be taken up next week with the International Correspondence school for the supplying of texts and lesson sheets for use in the project.

Confusion in the meaning and application of the Ohio motor vehicle bill-of-sale law is such that the measure should either be repealed or amended, according to the recommendation of the Ohio Automotive Trades association. Owners, dealers, manufacturers and clerks of courts are alike confused over the bill. E. J. Shover, general manager of the association declared, Mr. Shover proposes the use of a legal form approved by the attorney general and a central record office in Columbus instead of having 88 different record offices in each of the counties as at present. The present application and postcard certificates of registration would take the place of the bills of sale on file and in possession of each owner. Owners would register their cars with the secretary of state as at present and dealers could be required to furnish their customers with a sales report. When an automobile is registered, either the sales report or a former registration card would accompany the application.

Mr. Shover declared that there is a misunderstanding as to the term "bill-of-sale" as connected with auto registry; that the "bill-of-sale" in this connection is merely the evidence of change of possession and not an ordinary Ohio bill of sale for the transfer of personal property.

Governor Donahay has offered a suggestion to relieve presidents of their burdens and prolong their lives. "Take away his patronage worries and you will solve the problem," he said. "I do not have the slightest doubt that President Harding would be alive today if it had not been for the constant grinding worries over appointments. How would you like to be an executive and have at your disposal a job paying $3,500 a year for which there are 30 applicants and then, after it is over, have at least 22 of the applicants, who had construed some word or sign as a promise, accuse you of going back on your word?"

William Dudley Foulke, the civil service reformer, also offers a suggestion as to how the lives of presidents may be prolonged. His remedy is to give civil service full sway in the matter of appointments. He pointed out how President Harding had been besieged and beleaguered by office-seekers until his health was undermined. "The one case of the Dayton postoffice consumed long hours of the president's valuable time during a period of weeks and months," said Mr. Foulke.

The Ohio League of Women Voters has moved into larger quarters at 29 South Third street, this city, and more activities can be carried on than before.

Both the state and county officers will help in getting out the vote in November. They are determined that all women must vote this year, and, if it is possible to have them do so, the league will do its part.

The Cincinnati league is one of the very busy ones, and Miss Emily Kneubuhl, an organizer and speaker for the National League of Women Voters, will assume her duties in September as executive secretary of the Cincinnati league. Downtown headquarters have been secured, and the league will launch its winter activities under the leadership of Miss Agnes Griffin, the president.

The Franklin county league, of which Dr. Alice Johnson is president, will have offices in the state headquarters. That will enable the state and county officers to consult with least delay, and work with greater co-operation.

From state headquarters it is learned that leagues have been formed in most of the larger cities of Ohio, and that all of them are flourishing. Practically all women who were in the suffrage ranks joined the leagues, and are now learning to become good citizens.

"Men are learning many things about women they never knew before," said one of the leaders of the league. "They expected us to vote as men generally do—a strict party ticket. Women will never do that, at least the broad-minded ones will not. Women will make good citizens because they are independent voters. They are looking for efficient men and women for public office, and they will try to find that kind and elect them."

Secretary of State Brown was temporarily enjoined yesterday from distributing to the various county boards of election through county boards the proposed referendum petitions on the Taft taxation law now on file with him.

Common Pleas Judge Mouser is sued the order on application of Walter Stewart, director of the Commercial National bank of Toledo. The case is to be heard on its merits Sept. 11.

Stewart alleged that despite a writ of prohibition allowed by the state supreme court enjoining Brown from determining the sufficiency of the referendum petitions, the latter is about to place them in the hands of the election boards.

Stewart alleged the petitions on file with the secretary of state lack the affidavit in a great many instances of the solicitors for signatures are a pencil instead of ink.

GET CORN LIQUOR ON LISBON RAID

Boarding House Proprietor
Held As Officers Find
Twenty Gallons.

Lisbon, Aug. 27. — A party of officers consisting of Chief Roy Lewton and Deputy Sheriffs George Wright and David Ellis went to Gilmore's stop on the Youngstown & Ohio River railroad Saturday night and raided a miners' boarding house kept by John Doshen. The officers found two five-gallon and one 10-gallon kegs of corn liquor. Doshen was placed under arrest. The two five-gallon kegs were emptied and the 10-gallon keg together with Doshen were brought to Lisbon.

Mayor Bean, after Doshen pleaded not guilty, committed him to the village reekup under $2,000 bail and at his trial for tonight. Yesterday several friends of Doshen furnished bond and he was released.

The boarding house has been under suspicion for some time. When the officers arrived they found the house crowded with men, who were playing cards. No resistance was offered by Doshen or any of the others.

Buggy Upsets, Woman Hurt

Thrown from a buggy by a frightened horse, Mrs. Russell Todd of south of Lisbon sustained severe bruises about the body Saturday about noon while on her way to Lisbon, accompanied by her husband and infant child. The horse took fright at a wagon along the road and whirled, upsetting the carriage. Mrs. Todd was thrown to the ground. The baby which she was carrying in her arms was not hurt. She was brought to Lisbon and was given medical attention.

Former Lisbon Girl Weds

Miss Ruth A. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Williams of 315 Lucas ave., Youngstown, were married at noon Saturday in the bride's home.

The ceremony was witnessed by only a few relatives. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left for a short honeymoon tour, after which they will locate near Cleveland.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were in the graduating class of 1923 at Berea college. Mrs. Thompson was formerly of Lisbon and has a host of friends and relatives here.

Automobile Is Damaged

A touring car with the front end craved in was hauled to Lisbon Saturday from a point about two miles north on the Salem-Lisbon rd. The owner of the car refused to give his name to the repairmen who went after the wreck. Autoists who passed the car stated that before the wreck occurred the driver had considerable difficulty in keeping on the road and nearly collided with several machines.

Physical Health means Beauty!

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

Deceitful practices which he labeled as "malicious, nefarious, and often criminal and brutal." Caley gave notice that the 74 automobile clubs affiliated with the Ohio association and embarked on an even more drastic campaign to run "fee grabbing squires and roadside constables out of their pernicious business."

"Legal arrests, made on actual evidence of law violation, for the purpose of enforcing the traffic regulations," Caley said, "have the complete approval of this association. We cannot, however, countenance certain practices that have come to the notice of our clubs."

"We now have under investigation several 'road side' courts. So-called constables arrest motorists in a speed trap, tell them the fine is so much and the costs so much, collect the money on the road, and let the motorist go. This is not a trial such as the law provides. It places the motorist, guilty or not, at the mercy of speed cops who are out for revenue only."

"Enforcing reasonable laws is one thing, 'gypping' motorists is another. If the intention is only to enforce the law, the authorities do not go about side-stepping the safeguards, which the law puts around the rights of automobile owners."

BIG WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS IS COMING

Barnes To Introduce Many Other Features Here
Next Friday.

Al G. Barnes, who is bringing his four-ring wild animal circus to Salem, Friday, Aug. 31, has had a varied career both as hunter of wild animals in Africa and India and as an exhibitor of the beasts he captured. According to Mr. Barnes, once wild animals become acquainted with the routine of their act they are more submissive to women trainers than to men. In the Barnes organization is found a score or more of women trainers. They are as fearless as men and seem to get along better with their charges than do the male attaches of the circus.

Louis Roth, who has charge of the Barnes menagerie of 1200 animals is the peer of all animal men, according to the circus press agent and knows all the secrets of turning vicious, snarling wild beasts into well-trained arena performers.

Horse lovers will find much to interest them in the Barnes stables which house 550 head of fine stock, including Barnes' collection of High school horses which are featured in an attractive act, "60 dancing girls and 60 dancing horses."

Alleged in Jangleland, an elaborate spectacle with four prima donnas and a singing and dancing chorus will open the Barnes performances here.

In addition to the 1200 animals the Barnes circus carries 1080 people and 550 horses on three special double-length trains. Six bands, three calliope and 65 clowns will offer diversion in a program that is said to be filled with a succession of thrills.

An eastern scientist predicts that the radio will soon be used to carry power. If that is so, it could be used to play a duet between a phonograph and itself.

The tough part of it is that the girl who won a prize by making a complete change of dress in 12 seconds probably intends to die with the secret.

Babe Ruth's Hold On Affections Of Fans Is Stronger

New York, Aug. 27 — George H. Ruth, the well known right fielder, who was once decorated with the order of the vocal razzberry at every public appearance, is now accepted by some of our best people, even in the hostile west, according to Col. T. L. Huston. The Colonel owned a half interest in the Yanks until recently and made the statement merely as an unofficial bystander.

"What pleased me particularly," the colonel proclaimed, "was the attitude of the western fans toward Babe Ruth. They are with him to a man. Everyone I talked to seemed to be greatly interested in baseball, in spite of the runaway race the Yanks are making, and was following Ruth's progress with keen interest. Most of the fans were pulling for the Babe to have his greatest year."

There is no question in my mind of the Babe's hold on the affections of the public. And let me add, that he is richly deserving of this honor. He is a great fellow, personally, and a fine type of athlete, always in there, trying his best."

ACTORS, DANGERS, MUSICIANS

Special Attractions For Buckeye State Exposition to Be Seen In Coliseum or From Grandstand—Visitors Will Find Splendid Entertainment Every Day and Night—Display of Fireworks.

For several years there has been considerable rivalry between the Grandstand and Coliseum as centers of attraction at the Ohio State Fair. During the day the former is the scene of the excellent racing events while the Coliseum houses the judging of the cattle and horse competitions. Both are patronized to capacity. As evening approaches, however, it is a problem for fair visitors to decide which to go to. As a result, there is a last minute rush for the box offices, which dispose of every available seat and thousands of standing room tickets.

The Coliseum has always offered the "Night Horse Show" as an evening attraction, while the Grandstand program has varied from year to year. For some time a pageant enacted by local talent was presented before the stand under the powerful flood lights. Then fireworks spectacles were tried, and finally, in 1922, a combination of the two comprised the offering—a stupendous attraction entitled "Montezuma," combining pyrotechnics and pageantry, being staged. When Fair Week opens this year on Aug. 27, the management is confident that visitors will find the acme of entertainment at the Grandstand every night.

Plans for the most elaborate spectacle ever attempted on the Columbus grounds have recently been completed by the fair management with the cooperation of the city recreation department. This spectacle is a magnified and greatly improved edition of the style of pageant formerly popular at the Ohio Exposition. It is a mammoth fantasy entitled "Citizen Birds," and illustrates how necessary are the birds for the protection of agriculture. The story of the pageant was written by W. A. Ireland, nationally famed cartoonist of Columbus. Over a thousand young people recruited from central Ohio will participate as actors, dancers or musicians, while each program will be followed by a brilliant display of fireworks.

The Ohio State Fair has set the pace in pageantry in the country and this year should see all previous records eclipsed. Out-of-town visitors are always deeply interested in an offering of this size and splendor and with such an attractive theme for this year's performance, each night should find the stands filled. The fact that most of the characters in the production will represent birds offers an excellent opportunity for brilliant and colorful costuming. Each incident in the story of the pageant is being carefully worked out, so that it will be a simple matter for the audience to follow the progress of the plot.

$11,550 IN PRIZES

See Club Work of Boys and Girls at State Fair of Ohio.

During its existence the Ohio State Fair has achieved many distinctions and has succeeded in showing the way in many departments to other fairs in the country. Perhaps no achievement has been so satisfying as the Boys' and Girls' club work, which set a new record in point of entries and premiums in 1922. At this time $9,000 was offered in prizes, not including premiums amounting to $1,200 for city school garden work. This generous offering attracted the largest list of contestants ever to be entered on the books in Ohio.

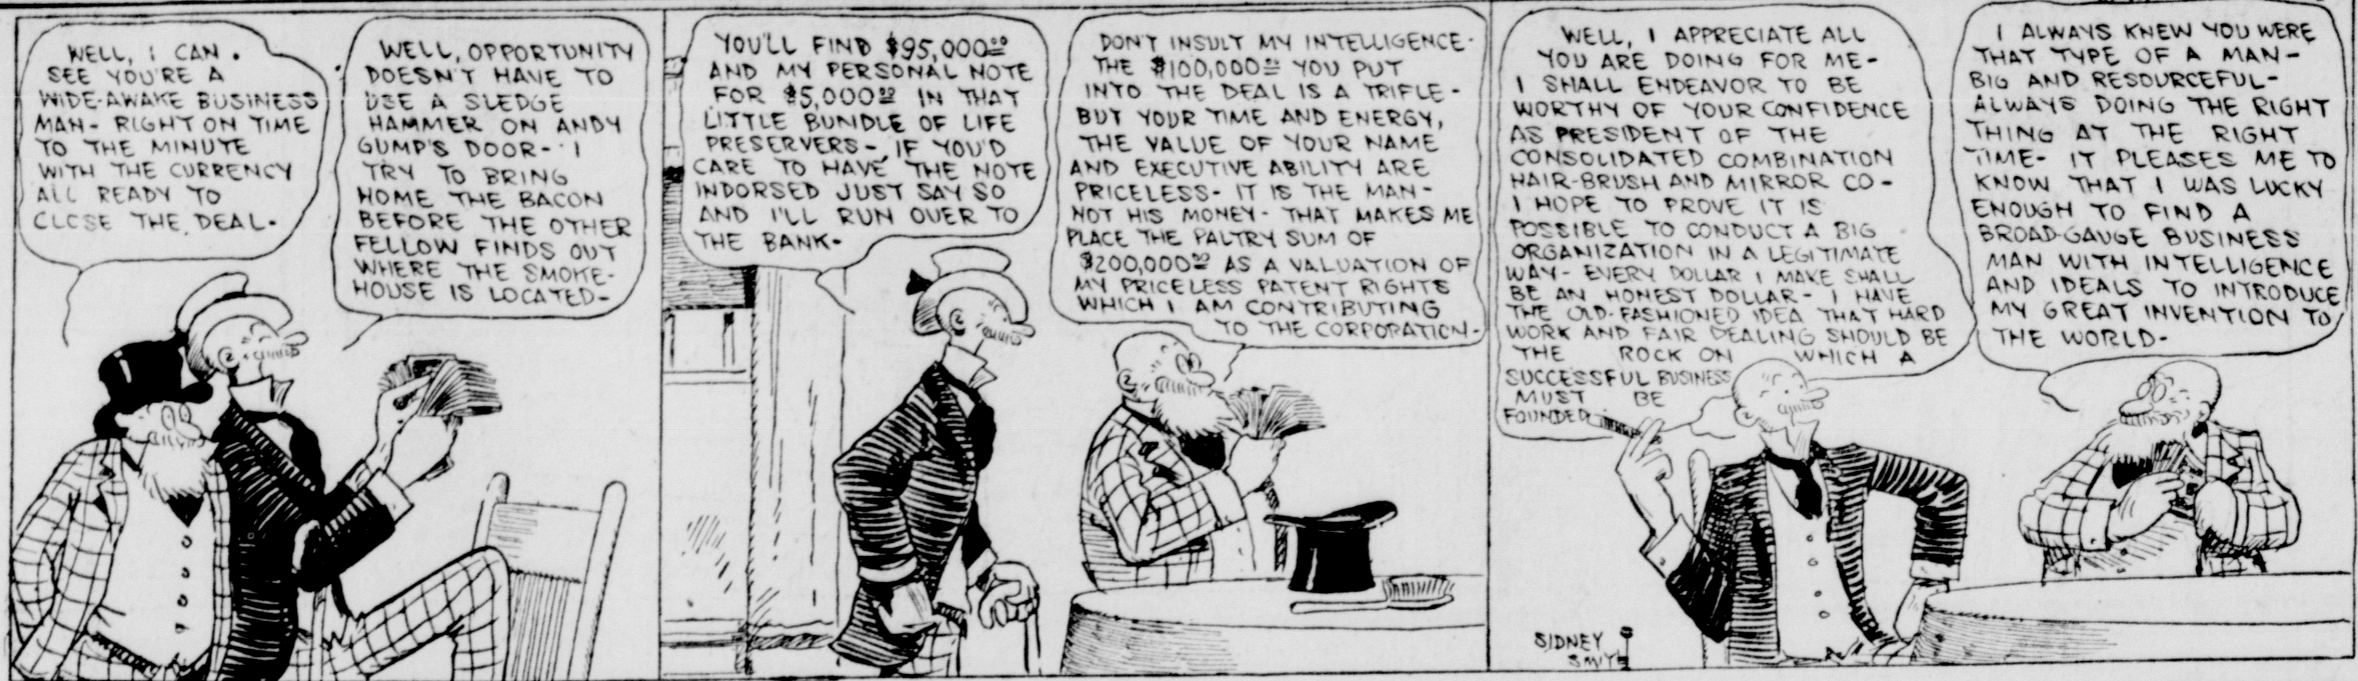

Realizing that the future success and expansion of agriculture rests with the rising generation, Manager G. R. Lewis has increased the $9,000 to $11,550, and has advanced the city school garden department as well. All the classes in the junior department are exact duplicates on a modified scale of the senior competitions. In quality of the animals and exhibits they often equal those to be found in the open classes.

The Extension Department at the Ohio State University has contributed largely to the advancement of this phase of fair activity through its Boys' and Girls' Club Department. Every agricultural organization in the state champions the cause of the youngsters and their popularity is substantiated by the throngs that gather about their displays.

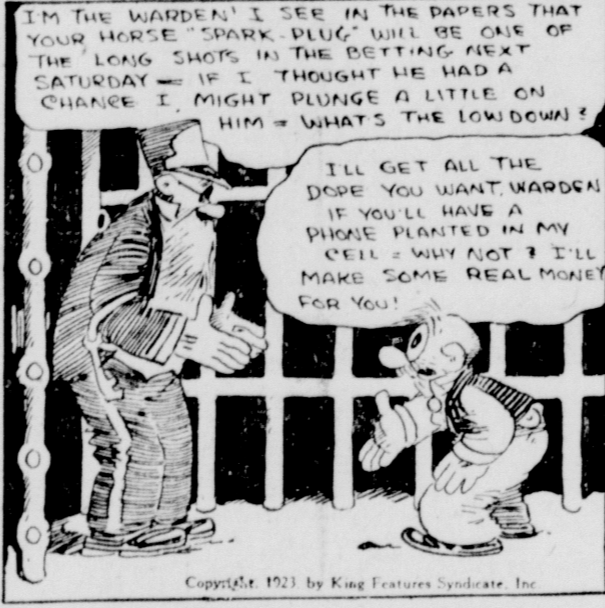

An entry of unusual interest was recently received by the Ohio State Fair management when the Elm Hill Farm of Brookfield, Mass., sent in papers for Perennial Lobellia. This animal, which is owned by O. W. Means, is an imported Jersey cow and was recently sold to Mr. Means for $6,500—the highest price of the year. Not only does the value of this cow attract attention, but her color as well. She is pure black and white, a combination that is extremely rare in the Jersey breed.

TEACH PATRIOTISM IN OHIO SCHOOLS

Patriotic Organizations To Help Prepare Manual
Of Instruction.

The preparation of a manual which will outline plans for a systematic teaching of patriotism in the public schools of Ohio is contemplated by State Director of Education Vernon M. Riegel who has invited representatives of leading patriotic organizations to serve as a committee for this purpose. The organizations asked to assist in this task are: the American Legion, the Spanish-American war veterans, the G. A. R., the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the American Revolution, the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Ohio League of Women Voters.

Director Riegel calls attention to the spread of disloyalty to the laws of the municipality, the state and the nation, if these happen not to consort with the individual's convenience and preference, and cites numerous violations of the traffic laws and of the eighteenth amendment as cases in point. "Something seems to be wrong with the ground-work laid in the early years," he says, "and hence there is reason to be concerned about what the schools are now doing to equip the oncoming citizens with that understanding, respect, and appreciation which subordinates self to the will of a government constituted by a free people."

Sarazen In Pictures Teaches Ideal Game; To Appear At State

Gene Sarazen, open champion of the United States, and champion of the Professional Golfers' association, has adopted the motion picture as the most efficient method of instruction in the intricacies of golf.

Realizing there are hundreds of thousands of persons interested in this great outdoor sport Sarazen was prevailed upon to make a motion picture which would show by means of slow motion photography the correct way to make every stroke in the game. This picture, "Golf as Played by Gene Sarazen," an Educational Pictures Special, will be shown at the State theater Monday and Tuesday nights.

As 90 per cent of all education is secured through the eye, even in such intricate matters as golf strokes, it can be assumed that this visual education will be greatly enhanced by the use of the slow motion camera, which slows down action to one-eighth normal speed.

Sarazen's form has been declared the most perfect combination of time tried principle and the modern innovations known to golf. His stance, grip and follow through are perfect and have carried this 22-year-old boy to the highest honors in the ancient Scottish game.

"Silver Wings," featuring Mary Carr

the picture William Fox chose to open his Broadway season and which enjoyed a successful six months' run on the "lane or white lights," also will be shown Monday and Tuesday nights at the State.

Mary Carr, known as "the sweetest mother in all the world," has, in this new production, the role of a mother who spares the rod and spoils.

To Be Happy, Though Married.

H. E. W.: Is it true you hold a theory that married people are not happy? This is to settle a bet.

MYRTLE.

Whoa, Mertz! . . . What I hold is that human beings are as happy or as miserable as they make each other. It is generally true that married people are as happy, on the average, as unmarried people. But it is peculiar of married people that they do a whole lot of unnecessary things to make each other miserable, and as a result they're always inviting company, because they'd rather see almost anyone than each other, the way they feel in their curl papers and grousches. It isn't being married that does it. It's forgetting to be sweet-hearts. But married people who keep on being pals and sweethearts are the happiest beings this side of angels.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Power to Stop!

Buick Four-wheel Brakes

Buick four-wheel brakes provide a factor of safety welcomed by every driver. No matter how careful he may be there are moments when the power to stop his car quickly and surely averts a serious accident.

Buick four-wheel brakes operate simply by light pressure on the foot pedal. There is no change in the method of operation over former Buick rear wheel brakes.

Buick rear brake construction has proved its dependability for many years. Identically the same principle, simple in its mechanism and effective in its braking control, now has been employed on the front wheels.

The adoption of four-wheel brakes by Buick on its 1924 cars is wholly in keeping with its policy of giving the owner everything that will increase his safety, comfort and satisfaction.

The 1924 Buick cars likewise are distinctive for their beauty, their increased power, ease of operation and comfort—giving features never before found on motor cars.
